

Fixed Income Analyst – Tax Exempt Securities

Who we are:

The Capital Group Companies is one of the world's most experienced and successful investment management organizations. Our investment groups manage investments for millions of individuals and thousands of corporations and institutions with a philosophy that generates consistent long-term investment results.

The fixed income group invests broadly across the global fixed income markets and has in excess of $230 billion under management. The firm's investment decisions are largely driven by fundamental analysis of both portfolios and markets.

Analyst role:

- Conduct financial and macro analysis of state and local governments as well as project finance for other tax exempt issuers such as hospitals and utilities
- Engage in primary, direct research in area of coverage, and make investment recommendations to portfolio managers
- Assess relative value of a bond across the issuer's security structure and across the municipal curve, with the objective of recommending investment action
- Analyze economic, financial and industry trends, and proactively communicate these findings with other analysts and portfolio managers
- Maintain contact with management and industry participants on a regular basis
- Manage a portfolio of securities drawn from your sector coverage
- Produce, as necessary, written reports and regular updates

Selection criteria:

- Superior research skills and the drive to develop investment insight from multiple angles
- Experience conducting in-depth, first-hand research, including on-site visits, financial understanding and valuation analysis
- Superb market knowledge with a demonstrated track record of success
- Excellent communication skills – strong written and oral presentation capabilities
- Ability to work proactively and creatively in a team environment

Experience:

- The ideal candidate will have about 5 years of experience analyzing relevant municipal issuers at an organization that has a fundamental research orientation
- MBA and/or CFA desired but not required
